Wave

MALL NEW CAIRO

PREPARED BY NAJ

One wordmark, two sign-offs

A · Stacked wordmark

A hairline rule under the wordmark, then spaced capitals: MALL NEW CAIRO. Built to stand alone as a monument.

B · Horizontal lockup

A vertical divider, then MALL and NEW CAIRO on two lines. Built for wide bands and fascias.

OPTION A

Stacked wordmark

READS AS

Quiet luxury: a landmark, a hotel, a boutique.

BEST FOR

Facade and atrium monuments, tall pylons, bags, gift boxes, tote bags, avatars.

WATCH

The hairline rule and tagline need a minimum width of about 120px or they fill in.

OPTION B

Horizontal lockup

READS AS

Modern and organised: a flagship, a campus, a district.

BEST FOR

Wide fascias, billboards, door vinyl, valet desk, email headers, cards.

WATCH

MALL and NEW CAIRO are small at distance, and the wordmark shrinks in square formats.

ON YOUR BUILDING · GOLDEN HOUR

The ribbon facade, rebranded

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

A has presence on the dark soffit. B stretches along the curve and reads as a strip of text.

ON YOUR BUILDING · NIGHT

The LED ribbons at night

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

The sign band is narrow, so both logos stay modest. A sits better in the centre bay.

ON YOUR BUILDING · DAY

From the plaza steps

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

Daylight reveals the problem with B: the descriptor is hard to read at this distance.

WORD ONLY

Just "Wave"

With the sign reduced to the word alone, the facade carries it from across the plaza.

WORD ONLY

Wave on the building, three ways

The same wordmark, with no tagline. It scales up cleanly where the full logo cannot.

INSIDE AND AROUND THE MALL

Facade at blue hour

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

On a travertine wall A feels monumental. B suits the wide entrance header above the glazing.

INSIDE AND AROUND THE MALL

Atrium feature wall

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

Both work on emerald fluted stone. A is more ceremonial; B is more corporate.

INSIDE AND AROUND THE MALL

Bags, boxes, cards

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

A fills bags and the tote better. B fits card and box lids.

INSIDE AND AROUND THE MALL

Roadside pylon and billboard

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

A fills the tall pylon face. B suits the billboard format, but its descriptor gets small.

INSIDE AND AROUND THE MALL

Instagram profile and story

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

The wordmark carries the avatar in both. A holds up better in square formats.

INSIDE AND AROUND THE MALL

Doors, directory, valet

A · Stacked

B · Horizontal

A is stronger on the door vinyl. B matches the horizontal fascia of the valet desk.

SIDE BY SIDE

Where each one wins

	A · STACKED	B · HORIZONTAL
Facade and soffit sign	Stronger	Works, reads thin
Wide fascias and billboards	Works	Stronger
Square and tall formats	Stronger	Wordmark shrinks
Packaging and gifts	Stronger	Works
Distance legibility	Better	Descriptor gets small
Digital headers and cards	Works	Stronger

RECOMMENDATION

Lead with A. Keep B as the wide lockup.

Primary mark · facade, app icon, packaging

Secondary lockup · banners, fascias, headers

Use the word "Wave" alone where the sign band is narrow, as on this building's soffit at night.

Mockups are AI renders. Landscaping, crowds and exact sign position are illustrative, not survey-accurate.

Invented details. Storefront names in some interiors and the Instagram handles are not real tenants or accounts.

Confirm the identity. Please confirm the project name and the signboard on site before any of this is shown as final.

Trademark check. "Wave" is a common name. A search is needed before the name or logo is locked.

Arabic lockup. An Arabic version of the logo is not yet designed and needs a native review.
